- Group A

. "The events that took place on September 11, 2001 were the subject of a huge media development. From this point of view, of the media echo, the perpetrators of the crimes have achieved the greatest success in the history of terrorism. With an investment of several thousand dollars (500,000?), These attacks led to the spending of billions for their presentation in the press." Jean-Luc Marret, Terrorism Techniques

1. Explain why, according to source A, the 9/11 attacks were the most resounding success in the history of terrorism. 2. How much did the attack allegedly cost, according to the first source? What expenses did he generate?

- Group B

. "The nation is with the wonderful people of New York, and New Jersey, and Connecticut as we mourn the deaths of thousands of our citizens. I hear you! I hear you! The whole world hears you! And those who knocked down these towers will soon hear us all." From the speech of George W. Bush, President of the United States, on the ruins of the World Trade Center (September 14, 2001)

1. Mention how many victims this attack caused.

2. How do you interpret the statement: "And those who knocked down these towers will soon hear us all"?
